

Join the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Youth Council. Care about community and school issues?
Want to make your voice heard on important policies and decisions impacting children and youth? Here's your chance!

- Who? Open to all high school age youth – great for leaders/emerging leaders, journalists & all others interested in leadership, news, policy issues, and making a difference.
- What? Teens work with and advise local officials and policymakers on issues and decisions impacting K-12 students, learn about local government, network with students from across the community, build civic leadership, and use student voice to report on and highlight issues and government actions impacting youth.
- When? Meets twice a month, usually (but not always) on Tuesday evenings at 6:00-8:00PM
- Where? Most meetings are at the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Government Center in downtown Charlotte. When you sign up, you will receive regular meeting info, directions, etc. for each activity. Free CATS/LYNX passes available to assist students with transportation.
- How do I sign up?
