BUSINESS AGENDA

Redirection of growth was a major goal supported in the 2005 Plan. A key recommendation of that plan is that development enterprise areas (DEA's) be targeted throughout the city and county, particularly where there is currently a weak market. DEA's have the potential of becoming new growth areas for residential and/or employment purposes; they are envisioned as urban villages and integrate various design components for an identifiable image. As a redirection of growth strategy, public incentives such as sewer and water or road improvements are recommended to be provided early on to stimulate private investment in the DEA's.

The DEA concept plan builds on the broad 2005 Plan recommendation. It identifies the various types, sizes, character, and general location of the DEA's. With the policies of this plan in place, specific boundaries for the DEA's can be determined through the district plan process, and plans applying the policies to specific DEA's will follow. Council approval of the DEA concept is needed to continue planning efforts for the enterprise areas.
