digitalcharlotte

DigitalCharlotte.org is a hub for digital inclusion resources and news. The website provides information for teachers, librarians, neighborhood leaders, technology mentors, and a host of other practitioners. Led by the Queens Knight School of Communication, Digital Charlotte is a collaboration among citizens, community organizations, and municipal agencies.

Neighborhood Toolkits

- The Neighborhood Toolkit contains all of the resources provided at our workshops, and can be used by neighborhood leaders to create a dialogue and engage in basic communication training in their local communities.
